DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Invention I, Species I in the reply filed on 11/22/04 is acknowledged. Claims 1-21 are examined. Subsequent to this Office Action, claims 22-30 must be cancelled as they are directed to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Larson et al, US Patent 5,781,373. Larson discloses a disk drive (which is an audio signal processing system) comprising operating member (spindle motor) 14, and vibration transmission circuit (viscoelastic damping layer 112) comprising harmonic materials (metal sealing member) 84 for dissipating unwanted vibrations. Claim 1 is met. As to claim 2, metal sealing member 84 is linked to 78 to transmit the vibrations. Per claim 3, there is disclosed vibration relief means 76.

Allowable Subject Matter

Art Unit: 2644

Claims 4-21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The distinguishing feature between the reference, Larson, and the claim language is a tune sound box as the relief means. Such a feature is neither disclosed nor suggested in the reference.
